

Circular fashion design is based on three principles, all led by design:

Eliminate _____ and _____

Keep products and materials _____ and _____ natural systems.

Australian cotton growing in a field

Australian cotton fashion & millinery, Madi & Pip, captured by Natalie Trainor

In a circular fashion system garments are:

An example of this is:

Made from safe and recycled or renewable inputs.

Australian cotton because _____

_____

_____

Deadstock fabric because _____

_____

Recycled fabric but if you are using recycled polyester you should consider that _____

_____

Used more.

Design for emotional durability as well as physical durability. This can be created by _____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Made to be made again

_____

_____

_____

_____